SANAA, Yemen (AP) — Yemen's new Republican regime indicates that it will seek reconciliation with the Royalists and an end to the 5-year-old civil war, after its ouster of the president who seemed determined to keep fighting.

The new regime came to power Sunday in a bloodless coup while President Abdullah al-Sallal was out of the country. It said its goal is to "correct the situation" in Yemen.

Cairo's Middle East News Agency quoted the new acting president, Abdel Rahman Irfani, as saying contacts were under way with pro-Royalist tribes with the aim of bringing them into the Republican fold.

Irfani is a conservative and is believed to have great influence with the warring tribes.

The new premier, Moshen el Ainy, said all tribes have expressed backing for the new regime. He also said Yemen would follow a "good neighbor" policy with all sister states, including the neighboring monarchy of Saudi Arabia, which backed the Royalists in the civil war that began when Sallal led the overthrow of Yemen's 11-century-old monarchy in 1962.

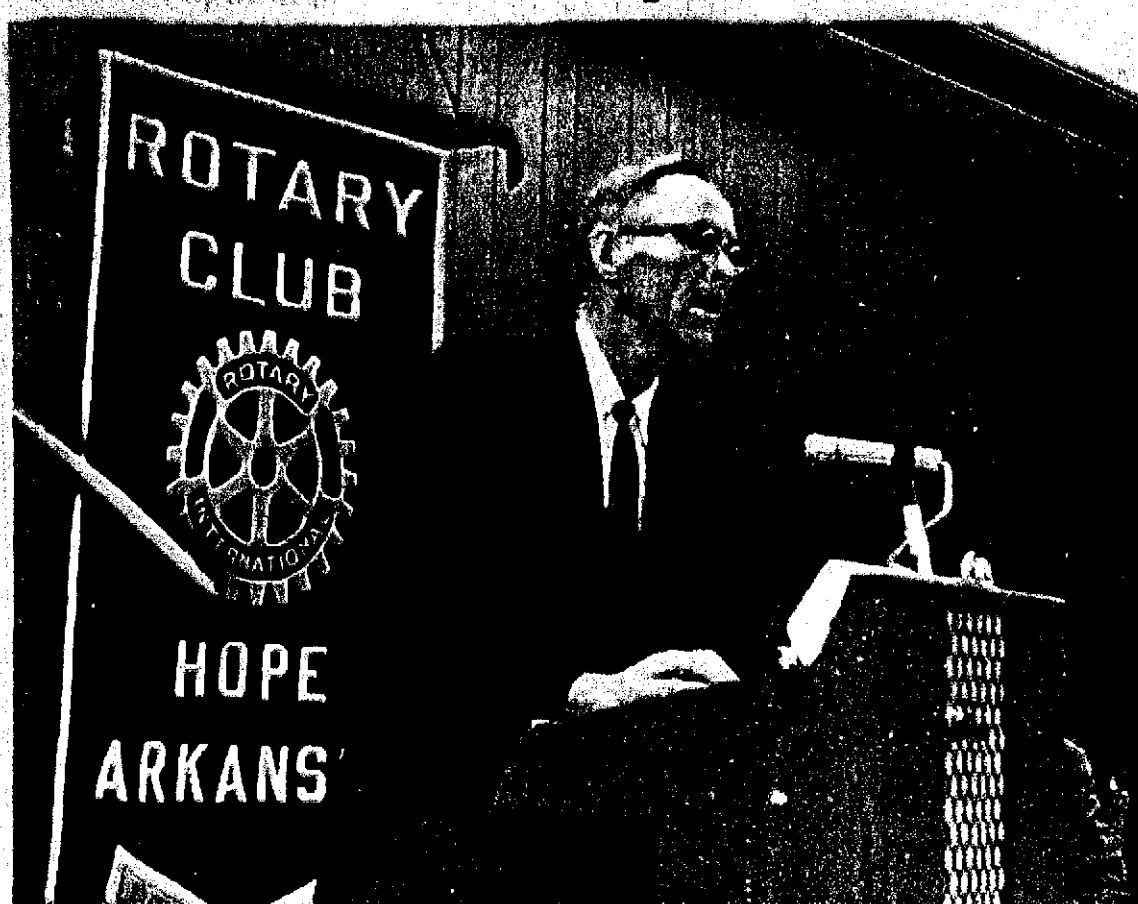

Egypt sent 40,000 troops to Yemen to keep the Republicans in power, but its losses in the June war with Israel forced President Gamal Abdel Nasser to agree with King Faisal of Saudi Arabia to end their involvement in Yemen and try to restore peace there.

Sallal had obstructed the Yemen peace commission sponsored by the two nations, and it appeared that Sallal's ouster, if not engineered by the Egyptians, must at least have had their blessing.

Observers said Irfani and his team of officers are likely to cooperate with Egypt and Saudi Arabia to reach a peace agreement in Yemen. Egypt already has started pulling out its estimated 27,000 troops still in Yemen, and Saudi Arabia has quieted supplying money and weapons to the Royalist troops encamped in the hills.

The Middle East News Agency said Sallal heard the news of the coup in Baghdad, Iraq, and canceled plans to go on to Moscow for the celebration of the 60th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution.

MCClellan Attacked by Wilkins

MAGNOLIA, Ark. (AP) — Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said here Sunday that Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., who is chairman of the subcommittee investigating riots, was "trying to find a way of pinning them on agitators."

Wilkins said the real causes were rooted in the "three areas of housing, jobs and schools" and were underneath the surface. "I can't call on you to vote McClellan home, because not only can't you do it, you wouldn't do it," Wilkins told about 700 persons attending the final day of the state NAACP conference. "You don't have enough votes yet. But I want you to know this. Your senator is not contributing to the peace of the races in this country."

Wilkins charged that useful legislation was "going down the drain" and termed the 90th Congress "disgraceful" in the areas of civil rights and welfare legislation. "They're just trying to back and fill," he said. "All they're period followed the message. President Clyde Fouse had charge of the meeting and welcomed the members and guests, who included Mrs. Bill Wray and Clarence R. Thornbrough of Little Rock.

Another guest, Dr. Don Freely, appealed to the club to give blood on November 8 when the bloodmobile will be at the Vo-Tech School. "If you can't give blood yourself, get someone else to volunteer in your place."

Police Chief A. L. Willis was the principal speaker at the luncheon meeting. Rotarian Floyd Leverett presented him, and the Police Chief gave a resume of activities of the local police department during the year 1966. He explained that the department uses forms prepared by the FBI with 27 classifications, and he summed up the number of arrests made in each type of law violation. A question-and-answer

Wilkins said that the civil rights bill the NAACP favored had been drastically changed and said that a section of the bill intended to protect civil rights demonstrators from physical attack "has been twisted into a kind of anti-riot, support-your-police program."

Nixon Thinks He'll Have to Win All

By JACK BELL
AP Political Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard M. Nixon has told some Republican leaders he thinks he'll have to win all of the first four presidential primaries next year to keep alive his chance for the GOP presidential nomination.

In discussions with Republican governors whose support he has been seeking, the former vice president has made it clear he thinks only a surge in the primaries will make him a top contender in a convention he has predicted will be wide open.

The first four primaries include New Hampshire on March 12, Wisconsin on April 2, Indiana on May 7 and Nebraska on May 14. Two later primaries fall on May 28 in Oregon and June 4 in South Dakota.

In the first four of these contests, Nixon is regarded as holding an early lead over Michigan Gov. George Romney and others whose names may be in the ballot. Romney is a certain entry in New Hampshire if he loses his hat into the ring at a scheduled Nov. 18 Michigan meeting.

California Gov. Ronald Reagan, who wants his state's favorite-son designation, has said he will act to keep his name off the New Hampshire ballot. But a write-in campaign is being organized for him that could take votes away from Nixon.

Unless he changes his mind, Reagan will not sign the necessary disclaimer of presidential candidacy intention to get off the ballot in Wisconsin. This could split the conservative vote and give Romney a chance to top the balloting.

A small group is working for Reagan in Indiana, where Nixon's campaign manager has said his candidate's name will be put on the ballot. Romney may pass up Indiana and, unless he changes his mind, make only token campaign appearances in Nebraska.

If he could top the balloting in four states, Nixon evidently figures he could sustain a setback in Oregon and still maintain his momentum toward the nomination.

Politicians agree it is too early to chart the likely winner in Oregon. They feel, however, that as a West Coast governor, Reagan will have strong support in the state. Romney's strength there is untested.

Nixon carried Oregon, along with New Hampshire, Wisconsin, Indiana, Nebraska and South Dakota in his losing 1960 race for the presidency with John F. Kennedy. But eight years have made some changes that are difficult for the political strategists to compute.

Any primary sweep by Nixon would be calculated to erase the "can't win" label pinned on him after his 1962 defeat for governor in California. It also might influence party moderates to take a fresh look at where Nixon stands on the issues.

One GOP governor—who lists himself as a moderate but has withheld commitment to any candidate—said if Nixon wins the primaries and torpedoes Romney's chances, the moderates might well line up behind the former vice president as an alternative to Reagan.

King in Bid for Peace With Israeli

By WILLIAM M. OATIS
Associated Press Writer
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — King Hussein of Jordan made the strongest Arab bid for peace with Israel so far Sunday, telling an American television audience Arab leaders are willing to recognize Israel's right to exist and possibly to let Israeli ships through the Suez Canal if Israel meets "the right conditions."

Replying to questions on the CBS program "Face the Nation," Hussein said a prerequisite to direct peace talks is the withdrawal of Israeli troops from all Arab soil it occupied in the June war. Israel has said it will never let go of Old Jerusalem, which Jordan seized in the 1948 Palestine war, and Israeli Prime Minister Levi Eshkol indicated a week ago that Israel intends to keep other Arab areas it captured in June.

Artillery and tank fire punctuated the pre-dawn stillness on the Israeli-Jordanian cease-fire line Sunday, marking the third border clash in three weeks between the two countries. An Israeli army spokesman said Jordanian guns opened up to cover Arab saboteurs who blew up a building at a farm settlement and were trying to cross the Jordan River to safety.

Congolese Government Victorious

KINSHASA, The Congo (AP) — The Congolese government says it has defeated all the mercenaries that had been harassing it—the group which had held Bukavu since Aug. 8 and another band which invaded from Portuguese Angola last week.

The government said Sunday that the rebel forces at Bukavu had fled across Kivu Lake into neighboring Rwanda and the invaders were fleeing back to Angola after a Congolese victory in Katanga Province.

In Geneva, the International Red Cross Committee said about 130 white mercenaries, 900 rebel Katangan soldiers and about 100 women and children fled to Rwanda and plans were being made to evacuate them. It did not say where they would go.

In Brussels, the Belgian Foreign Ministry charged that after mercenaries arrived in the city of Kisenge in Katanga, Congolese army troops arrested and machine gunned five Europeans, including a Belgian Roman Catholic priest and a nun. It said the priest was among three persons killed and the nun was wounded.

Since July, about 20 European civilians have been reported killed by the Congolese army or police.

No military details were given on either battle front. The Congolese had launched a massive and James Johnson, 21, of New York City.

While stationed at Ft. Hood, Tex., in June 1966 they received orders to report to Oakland, Calif., for deployment to Vietnam.

Douglas and Stewart wrote separate dissenting opinions.

Douglas said "a host of problems is raised. Does the President's authority to repel invasions and quiet insurrections, his powers in foreign relations and his duty to execute faithfully the laws of the United States, including its treaties, justify what has been threatened?"

He questioned also the relevancy of the 1964 Gulf of Tonkin resolution—under which authority President Johnson pursues the war in Vietnam—and the yearly appropriations in support of the Vietnam effort. He cited several treaties—among them the 1955 SEATO pact—and asked whether "any of them embrace hostilities in Vietnam, or give rights to individuals affected to complain."

Stewart, in regard to the Tonkin resolution, said a question presented is whether U.S. military operations fall within its terms.

Congolese soldiers took positions Sunday at the bridge over the Ruzizi River.

Mrs. Johnson Tells About Past 4 Years

By FRANCES LEWINE Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON (AP) — Lady Bird Johnson says the President has a reasoned, searching reaction to mounting criticism and "keeps his head high, his feet on the ground and goes on working the best he can."

"He doesn't want to be rigidly bound into one set of thinking," the First Lady said. "He's always trying to learn and explore."

Approaching the anniversary of four years in the White House, Mrs. Johnson said she has never lived so intensely.

"Awareness of this house is like a shot of adrenalin—intensifying the desire to do the best you can to live up to what this country wants its first family to be."

The President's hair is whiter, he has more lines in his face: "It has taken a lot—it's been worth everything it takes," his wife said.

The family has "drawn closer together than we ever have been in our lives—there's just four of us in the same boat."

Asked whether she wants President Johnson to run again, Mrs. Johnson said: "I want him to do everything of useful work that he can for his country."

Mrs. Johnson is urging the President to relax at golf, and says she hopes someday he'll retire to Texas and teach young people about "the years of government that he has lived."

In the historic second-floor White House treaty room, Mrs. Johnson thoughtfully discussed the White House and her family. She recalled "a lot of things I've loved," like dining by candlelight on the Truman balcony with the President and their oldest daughter Lynda; running the family's dogs and wheeling band to the Reno Chamber of Commerce asking that it be thrown into the Truckee.

her grandson's carriage on the south lawn; "spine-tingling moments" like seeing youngest daughter Luci's wedding gown stretched out across President Abraham Lincoln's massive bed; and "earnestly dramatic things" like the signing of the civil rights bill "with the lifetimes of hope and striving that went into it."

Here are Mrs. Johnson's responses to other questions:

Q. How do you feel about the forthcoming White House wedding (of Lynda to Marine Capt. Charles S. Robby)?

A. A heightened sense of excitement...and mostly a warm, happy expectancy that it will be just one of those great days to remember... Luci's was and it will always be one of the benchmarks, the great days in our life together...I hope this wedding will take its place as a dignified and well-loved occasion in this house.

Q. How do you feel about your future son-in-law going to Vietnam?

A. Like any mother or mother-in-law, I feel concerned and I'll be praying. But I'll always be very proud. I like that young man and I'm glad there are folks like him fighting for us.

Q. What did you think about the recent antiwar march on the Pentagon?

A. (Mrs. Johnson revealed she and the President drove around Washington after church on the weekend of the Pentagon march.) I was thinking, by gosh, what a big cleanup bill this city was going to face. It must be ankle deep in the trash they left...to some extent that demonstration was the fruits of affluence and permissiveness...It was about as unconstructive a work as I can remember seeing.

...I feel boiling up in me the feeling I think is shared by millions of Americans—that we've got to start having more respect for the law—that we must start more firmly enforcing the law.

Q. The President frequently quotes from the troubles of his predecessors in office. Does this give you solace?

A. It helps to get it in perspective. You know it's not the first time it's happened and certainly not the last.

Q. Do you worry about the President's health?

A. Well, I'm always concerned. I don't think I actively worry...he has many pluses, safety valves, on his side. For instance, he can go to sleep whenever he sees a spare 30 minutes on his schedule...That is a gift from heaven, I envy him that.

Celebrates 100th Year

GRAYSVILLE, Ala. (AP) — Mrs. Kate Frink Watson of Graysville, who loves politics like her grandson, former Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, is celebrating her 100th birthday today.

And as with all centenarians, there are interesting stories about her. A daughter, Mrs. V.E. Thomas, tells one:

Last year, when Wallace came to visit, his grandmother queried him about his presidential plans.

"He tried to sidetrack her," said Mrs. Thomas, who noted that Mrs. Watson once ordered the postman to stop delivering a magazine which had been uncomplimentary to Wallace.

"Mama advised him not to run," she said. "She told him he would get killed."

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

BLABBERMOUTH WOMEN

Dear Helen: For the life of me, I can't see how women candidly discuss the inadequacies of their husbands at a hen party, then go home and face them. If they like their men this little, why don't they leave them?

I've just been to another club meeting where all I heard was the black side of marriage. Those wives discussed everything from sex to sloppiness—and nothing pleased them.

I got to wondering—do men down grade their wives like this at stag parties?—BRIDE WHO LOVES HER HUSBAND

Dear Bride: When men get out with the boys they usually don't discuss their marriages because they are either 1. Gentlemen; 2. Trying to forget they have wives; 3. Have something better to do; or 4. Have no faults to find. I'm quite sure Numbers 1 and 4 apply in your case.—H.

P.S.... And not all wives play the "My husband's worse than yours is" game either. It just seems that way because complainers yak loudest.—H.

Dear Helen: You told "W.A." his wife appeared spoiled and he should consider "taming the shrew." That really hit my sore spot. You didn't look at the situation from the wife's point of view. Maybe, like me, she has every right to blow up and scream "Get out of here!" There are two sides to every pancake.

I married a chronic pessimist—always a sour crack about everything. Every Christmas it's the same old tune: "giving" is a duty. Christmas is to commercialized and costs too much. Finally, I explode and have my usual tantrum. Then he goes around like "W.A." with hurt feelings and implies to everyone that I'm a shrew.

He makes a big deal out of asking me what I want to do. But any suggestion of mine is promptly vetoed. So I quit suggesting, and again—the poor put-upon fellow mourns. "She won't tell me what she wants, then gets mad when I make the plans."

If I offer a better way to do an odd job around the house (after all, I'm more experienced at them than he is), he'll do it his way, even if he bumbles the job. Or else he accuses me of bossing and stamps off leaving the job undone. His mother was very domineering and he resents any signs of this trait in women.

You'll suggest a marriage counselor but I couldn't get him to go, even if there was one around. I don't like to discuss my problems with others. You are the first outsider to hear them in

Breaks Pass Bobcats by This Season

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sportswriter

If a person didn't know any better, he might say that some greater power likes every high school football team but the Hope Bobcats.

For a fact, the Bobcats have seen many bad breaks come their way, and have tried to shoulder them off, along with Head Coach Freddie Glaze. But after last Friday night's 7-6 loss to Warren, Glaze could only comment, "I've never seen anything like it." Not many people had before this, the year of the upset.

Preceding the Warren game, the Cats had undergone intense the team a quiet sense of confidence. The offensive line, who by far played their best game, proved quickly that they were all bused quickly that they were all bused, powering open spacious holes as the offense moved within one centimeter of scoring.

And that wasn't the last to be heard from the Cats on that cold, brisk evening. The Bobcat line outweighed their opponent, and clearly showed their superiority on the wet turf at Hammons Stadium, and blazed the way for 238 yards rushing for the night.

Saying enough about the offense, we move to the defense. Coach Ronnie Higgins' "Head-hunters" bottled up the potent Lumberjacks running attack, holding star fullback Leigh Hargis to 27 yards on all of 13 carries, and only 116 yards on the ground to the whole Warren team. The Jacks' most devastating play turned out to be the quarterback option with Robert Dew, who ate up yardage in the second half on crucial plays.

Of course, there's Coach Bill Lawrence's defensive secondary, by his admission "crippled and inexperienced". Mr. Lawrence must have been trying to build up the other team's passer, for during the month of October that same secondary looked like something out of the pros, allowing very, very few completions, while even intercepting a couple of their own. Put those two together, and you have a good offense.

Only once did they lapse against Warren, as the Lumberjacks drove 72 yards for their only score in the waning moments of the first half; the last 20 seconds, to be exact. Still, it would up to be the difference in a 7-6 ball game.

The one thing that the Bobcats have been unable to do all year is to put everything together in one awesome show. Friday night appeared to be the time, as it was last year when a rejuvenated Bobcat squad smothered Warren 34-14. When Larry Massanelli directed our team down that field in the first quarter, it looked at the time as though the Cats could name their own score. Oh, well, no use in crying over spilled milk.

So now those same Hope Bobcats must entertain this Friday evening a team bent with rage in the Nashville Scrappers. Nashville, now 8-1, lost their first game this season that marked the end of an 18-game string of victories by 19-14 at Magnolia last Friday. In facing Hope, they retain all the memories of the big rivalry, along with the mission to open another streak. The two teams will battle it out in Hammons Stadium in a few days. You'll get plenty of notice in this column.

Wyson Is Winner in Hawaii Play

HONOLULU (AP) — Dudley Wyson addresses a golf ball as if afraid it was going to hit him back.

He started the $100,000 Hawaii Open Tournament playing so badly he said he wasn't sure where the ball was going after he hit it.

But when it came down to the final holes, the quiet Texan refused to fold under the birdie pressure of veteran Billy Casper, and Wyson won the $20,000 first prize in a sudden death playoff.

Wyson and Casper finished the 72-hole tournament playing over the 7,000-yard Waialae course in brisk trade winds that made the coconut trees dance vigorously, tied at 284.

That was four under par for the four rounds.

Only four other players broke par, Doug Sanders, Babe Hisksey, Deane Beman and Tom Weiskopf, who tied for the third spot with 287, three strokes behind the leaders.

Defending champion Ted Makalen finished an even par 286, after an opening round 78. Arnold Palmer never got going and scored 72-74-74-72—292 for a 19th-place tie and $1,150.

The first prize check was Wyson's largest, and the victory only his second. He won the Phoenix Open last year.

"It was the same story here," he said. "I played great the week before and couldn't win, and at Phoenix I just tiddled around and won the tournament. Last week, I felt real good, but when I got here I couldn't get over the ball."

Wyson worked his troubles out in long practice tee sessions after the second and third rounds—both of which he led.

He has a strange address. He puts his club behind the ball—and then moves it three or four inches to the right until the club and the ball aren't facing each other at all.

"It drives you crazy to watch him," said Casper, "but he hits the ball solid. He is a good player and he can do many things in golf."

Casper put the pressure on Wyson on the 16th hole when he smacked an iron three feet away and made a birdie 3. Wyson, playing behind, stroked his approach to the same spot, but his putt hit a spike mark and lipped out.

At the final hole, Casper made a birdie 4, and Wyson needed a birdie to win. The Texan hit a magnificent second shot—Palmer called it "the greatest of the tournament"—but the ball rolled and rolled until it trickled over the green.

Wyson chipped back short and left the putt short for the tie.

On the sudden death hole, Casper hit his second into a bunker, blasted out nine feet away and missed the putt. Wyson hit what Casper called a "fantastic shot, around a tree and onto the green." He two-putted for the win.

27-24. Kansas City lay sidetracked with a 3-3 record two weeks ago after two straight losses before Mike Garrett, their 5-foot-9, 190-lb., but did not resemble any express in huffing and puffing by Denver 21-17. San Diego was idle.

In the other AFL contests, Boston kept Houston off the field, Jets' back by slowing down the Oilers 18-7, while Buffalo got back on the track against Miami 35-13.

In the National Football League, Baltimore beat Green Bay 13-10, Los Angeles downed San Francisco 17-7, Dallas coblanded Atlanta 37-7, Cleveland rolled over Pittsburgh 34-14, St. Louis slid by Washington 27-21.

A fumbled punt led to Denver's second score in the fourth quarter and an 11-yard punt Detroit 27-13, and Minnesota gave the Broncos another chance at the Raider 21 midway through the session. But all they could salvage was a field goal, their last good shot.

"This was a long way from one of our better games," Oakland coach John Rauch admitted. "Still, we had it on offense and defense when we needed it."

Houston, 4-3-1, missed its chance to tie the Jets as its vaunted defense held Boston to three Gus Cappelletti field goals and a safety until late in the final period, but could set up only one offer 11. That came after recovering a Boston fumble that led to a 45-yard scoring march that closed the gap to 11-7.

Buffalo, winning only the third time in eight tries, ran up its biggest point total of the season as Wray Carlton ran 15 times for 97 yards and two touchdowns.

Fumble Is Costly to the Porkers

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Once again it was a turnover (fumble or pass interception) which gave Arkansas' opponent an easy scoring opportunity and cost the Razorbacks a chance at victory.

Texas A&M had just scored with seconds gone in the fourth period and Charley Riggs' extra point had bounced off the left upright to leave Arkansas ahead 21-20.

The Razorbacks ran one play and then fumbled on second down.

A&M's Tommy Maxwell recovered on the 31 and then turned pass receiver a few plays later to take a 15-yard scoring strike by Edd Hargett among four Razorbacks a yard or two deep in the end zone.

Arkansas moved to two first downs on its next possession then tackle Harvey Ashenbeck partially blocked Paul Conner's punt. The Aggies took over on their own 47 and drove 53 yards for the clinching touchdown.

"That was the big thing," said Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles on his television show Sunday. "They were able to take advantage of the opportunities in a more lightning-like fashion than any team I can remember."

It was A&M quarterback Hargett who consistently made the big plays. He faced 15 critical third or fourth downs and nine times he passed for the necessary yardage.

Hargett, who is the leading passer in the Southwest Conference, has such a quick delivery that, given enough time, he will find a receiver open.

"He would hit, not the first or second receiver, but the third or fourth," lamented Broyles. "You can't fault our defense, they played where we put them."

"We became a little bit rattled and made some changes instead of sticking to our knitting," Broyles said. "Hargett is one of the finest quarterbacks you'll see anywhere."

Hargett's performance overshadowed an outstanding effort by Arkansas quarterback Ronny South who connected on 18 of 22 tosses for more than 200 yards and two touchdowns. It was the most completions by an Arkansas quarterback during Broyles' 10 years.

"Ronny did a great job of picking out his receivers," Broyles said. "He did enough offensively for us to win."

The Razorbacks marched down the field with the opening kickoff but were stopped at the Aggies' 11. They took it back all the way for the touchdown. Hargett produced the big play—flipping the ball to tight end Tom Buckman for 23 yards while under pressure inside his own ten.

The Razorbacks came back a few possessions later and moved 51 yards for the tying touchdown. South found fast-developing Max Peacock for ten yards on fourth and three at the 15.

A&M ran three plays, punted and Arkansas moved 38 yards for another touchdown. The big play was a 21-yard pass to tight back Mike Hendren in another fourth down situation. Arkansas led 14-7 at the half when South passed six yards to Peacock and Bob White converted.

Hargett came firing back in the final half. He threw to Barry Harris wide open in the end zone on fourth and three from the three after Steve O'Neal had kicked dead on the one and Bob Long had returned the Razorbacks' ensuing punt 22 yards. It took the Aggies the full eight plays to score from the 19.

The Razorbacks moved back down field two possessions later and South passed 19 yards to Peacock for the touchdown with less than two minutes left.

A&M scored its third touchdown of the day but when Idggs missed the extra point it looked as if Arkansas might have the advantage.

If the Razorbacks did have the advantage, the fumble recovery turned it back to A&M for the final time.

Thinks All SWC Teams Are Tough

By JACK DONOVAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

"They are all tough," said head coach J.T. King of Texas Tech.

King was speaking of the Red Raiders' opposition but his remark could be applied to the entire Southwest Conference last Saturday. Picture these events:

Texas Christian, loser in eight straight games and shut out in its last three, whipped Baylor 29-6 and rolled up 537 yards in total offense.

Texas A&M, trailing 21-14 after three quarters, rallied for 19 points in the final period to outscore Arkansas 33-21 for the first time since 1957.

Texas Tech, held to a paltry 123 yards rushing and a 3-3 tie at halftime, sustained an offense in the second half and subdued crippled Rice 24-10.

Southern Methodist, which has not won a game since the Sept. 16 season opener, nearly bombed Texas out of the Cotton Bowl before losing No. 6 in a row 35-28.

It was a day for the defense to be distinguished because of its absence.

Texas and SMU combined for a total offense of 817 yards. The Longhorns got 441 yards and the Mustangs 376 despite having a minus two yards rushing.

SMU's Mike Livingston threw 40 times, had only 10 fall incomplete and one intercepted. Four went for touchdowns. His 378 yards passing was the second best in conference history.

TCU and Baylor accumulated 807 yards in total offense with the heretofore timid Frogs bursting the big Baylor line for 404 yards rushing, a school record.

Ross Montgomery ran for 213 yards on 36 carries and scored four touchdowns, the longest being 66 yards for TCU's final score.

Tech and Rice, which combined for only 331 yards running and passing in the first half, wound up with 789. The Red Raiders got 431 yards of the total with 359 of it coming on the ground.

Mike Leinert, who scored Tech's three second-half touchdowns, was the leading ground gainer with 127 yards on 23 carries.

ne Harris wide open in the end zone on fourth and three from the three after Steve O'Neal had kicked dead on the one and Bob Long had returned the Razorbacks' ensuing punt 22 yards. It took the Aggies the full eight plays to score from the 19.

The Razorbacks moved back down field two possessions later and South passed 19 yards to Peacock for the touchdown with less than two minutes left.

A&M scored its third touchdown of the day but when Idggs missed the extra point it looked as if Arkansas might have the advantage.

If the Razorbacks did have the advantage, the fumble recovery turned it back to A&M for the final time.

State Of Arkansas County Of Hempstead

I, Jimmie Griffin, Sheriff and Collector of the revenues of Hempstead County, Arkansas, do hereby certify that the foregoing Delinquent Tax List contain a true and correct description of the land, lots and parts of same as shown by the tax books this 27 day of October, 1967, returned delinquent for the non-payment of taxes for the year 1966.

JIMMIE GRIFFIN
Sheriff and Collector
Hempstead County, Arkansas
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 27th day of October, 1967.

MRS. PAT MCCAIN
County Clerk
Hempstead County, Arkansas

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT SAID SEVERAL tracts, lots and parts of lots, of so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the taxes, penalty and cost due thereon, will be sold by the County Collector at the Court House in said County, on the third Monday in November next; unless said taxes, penalty and costs be paid before that time; and the sale will continue from day to day, until said tracts, lots and parts of lots be sold.

WITNESS my hand and seal this 27th day of October, 1967.
MRS. PAT MCCAIN
County Clerk
Hempstead County, Arkansas

Unique Was to Get That Drink

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — State agents said that one of three men charged with illegal possession of liquor at Saturday's William and Mary-Citadel college football game had a plastic bottle hidden in his clothes and was sucking his drink through a tube.

Delivered Two Rolls Royces

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — Mrs. Ray Howard of Eugene accepted delivery Sunday of two Rolls Royces—a 1930 touring car and a 1937 sedan—which she and her husband bought while they were living in India.

"They have lots of these over there," Mrs. Howard said. "The old maharajahs had lots of money to buy them with."

Unitas Helps Colts Defeat Green Bay

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer
Green Bay turned back the clock on Johnny Unitas, but Unitas turned the tables on the Packers.

Unitas, who fumbled away Baltimore's last hope for the 1966 National Football League title when the Packers caught him on the run, won a frantic fourth-down footrace in Sunday's rematch and then pitched the unbeaten Colts to a 13-10 comeback triumph over the defending NFL champs.

With less than two minutes to play and the Colts behind 10-6, Unitas, forced out of his pass-pocket by the Packer rush, scrambled through a patch of daylight and picked up six vital yards for a first down on the Green Bay 23-yard line.

On the next play, the magnificent quarterback fired a touchdown strike to Willie Richardson, ending the Colts' five-game losing streak against Green Bay and keeping them atop the NFL's Central Division with a 6-0-2 mark.

Unitas' second TD pass in the final 2 1/2 minutes — after rookie Rich Volk recovered Lou Michaels' onside kick — averaged a 14-10 loss to the Packers at Baltimore last Dec. 10 — a loss that eliminated the Colts from the Western Conference race.

In Sunday's other games, Los Angeles remained one game behind the Colts in the Coastal race by trimming San Francisco 17-7; Cleveland buried Pittsburgh 34-14; St. Louis outscored Washington 27-21; New Orleans whipped Philadelphia 31-24 for its first NFL victory; Minnesota overtook New York 27-24 and Chicago bounced Detroit 27-13.

Kansas City drubbed New York 42-18; Oakland edged Denver 21-17; Boston topped Houston 18-7 and Buffalo battered Miami 35-13 in American Football League action.

The Packers stymied Unitas through three quarters and built a 10-0 lead on Don Chandler's 49-yard field goal and Bart Starr's 31-yard TD pass to Donny Anderson.

Unitas got the Colts back in the game on a 10-yard payoff pass to Alex Hawkins with 2:19 to go in the final period. Michaels fumbled the extra point conversion, then sliced a short kickoff. Volk fell on the ball at the Green Bay 34 and the Colts put over the winning touchdown with 1:28 on the clock.

"That's a heck of a way to lose," said Packers' Coach Vince Lombardi. "Especially when you know it's coming. We were set up for the kick, but we couldn't get it."

The Rams spotted San Francisco a 7-0 first quarter lead, then shut out the 49ers while quarterback Roman Gabriel led the counter-attack. Gabriel set up one touchdown with a 54-yard pass to Jack Snow and flipped three yards to Les Josephson for another score.

Frank Ryan, playing despite injuries for the eighth straight week, fired first quarter TD passes to Gary Collins and Leroy Kelly and guided Cleveland to a 31-7 third-period bulge over the Steelers before bowing out.

Larry Wilson intercepted a pass on his one-yard line and raced 44 yards to set up the first of two St. Louis scores in the final 15 minutes. Jim Hart followed Wilson's runback with a 55-yard pass to Jackie Smith before driving the last yard to put the Cards in front for good.

Walter "The Flea" Roberts bolted 91 yards with the opening kickoff for one touchdown, zipped 27 yards for another after picking up teammate Jim Taylor's fumble and scored a third on a 49-yard pass from Gary Cuzzo, leading New Orleans' expansion Saints out of a seven-game skid.

Fred Cox' 13-yard field goal with 10 seconds to play capped Minnesota's second half comeback against New York. The Giants squandered a 24-7 lead and fumbled away a chance for a tie-breaking FG less than two minutes before Cox booted the winner.

Dallas' Dan Reeves scored four touchdowns — two on passes from Don Meredith, who returned to action after a three-week layoff — as the Capitol Division leaders flattened the Falcons.

Gale Sayers scored on a 97-yard kickoff return and sped 63 yards to set up another touchdown, pacing the Bears to their second victory of the season over Detroit.

Results in Arkansas AIC Play

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There are only two conference games in the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference Saturday but one could have quite a bearing on second place.

Henderson, 2-2 in the conference, hosts State College of Arkansas, 3-1-1, Saturday night and Harding, which has not won in the conference, plays Arkansas Tech, 2-2-1, at Russellville Saturday afternoon.

Henderson is one of the most improved teams in the conference and could take over undisputed possession of second place with a victory over the Bears. SCA is the only team with a chance to catch front-running Arkansas A&M and then would need help from Southern State.

Both Southern State and A&M step out of the conference this week. Southern State was idle last week and Livingston, Ala., upset the Weevils 17-13 Saturday. Southern State is at Mississippi College and A&M plays at Eastern New Mexico.

The Henderson-SCA game will be the last conference game for the Bears' Bobby Tiner and it's doubtful that many of the AIC coaches will be sorry to see Tiner, a three time all-conference choice, depart.

Tiner ran for two touchdowns and threw for another in the Bears' 27-24 victory Saturday over Louisiana College but the winning touchdown came on a 69-yard halfback pass play with less than a minute left.

Freshman Darrell Hatchett took a handoff from Tiner and then threw to David Johnson for the winning touchdown. Tiner scored on runs of seven and one yard and passed 23 yards to Randy Crowell for another touchdown.

Henderson quarterback Walt Lowe threw for two touchdowns in the Reddies' 21-7 victory over Harding. Lowe passed 17 yards to Billy LeFay and hooked up with Arky Floyd for 26 yards and another touchdown. Henderson led 21-0 before Charles Jones ran four yards for a touchdown late in the game.

Livingston marched 62 yards for a fourth quarter touchdown that handed A&M its first loss. Farrell Grimes threw 16 yards to Waldron Tucker for 18 yards and the touchdown and then the Tigers stopped a fourth down try at their own 26 late in the game.

Gary Tate threw seven yards to Tommy Laramie for one Weevil touchdown and fullback Ronnie Sabbatini scored the other from one yard out. Grimes passed seven yards to Bill Luckie for the first Livingston touchdown but the victory margin was two extra points and a 34-yard field goal by Ed Strickland.

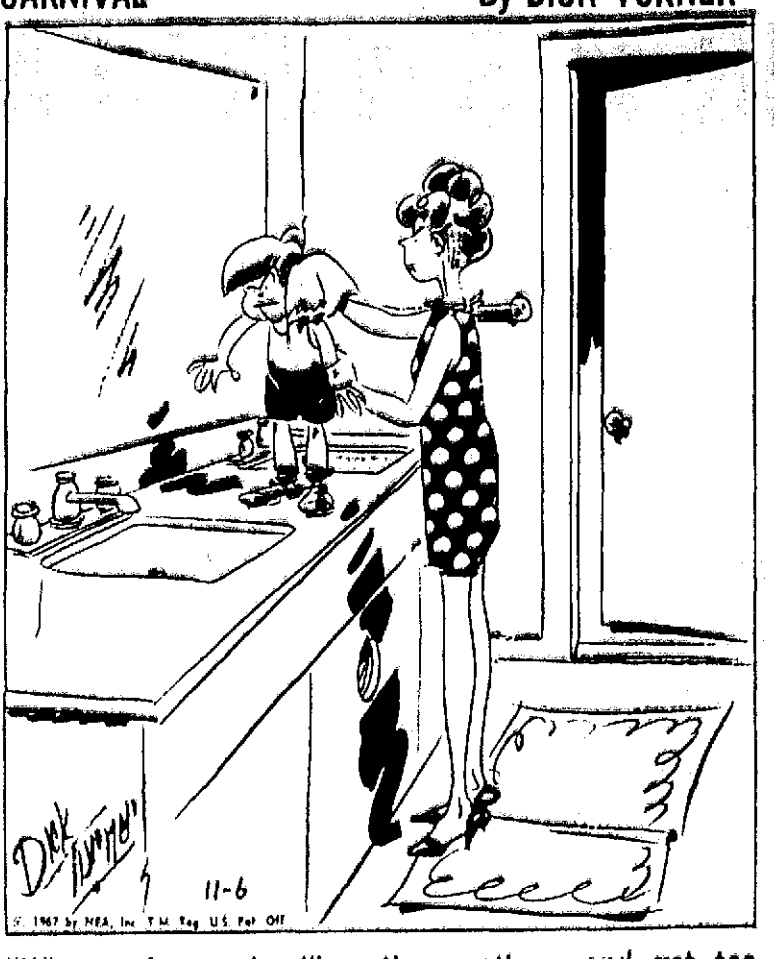

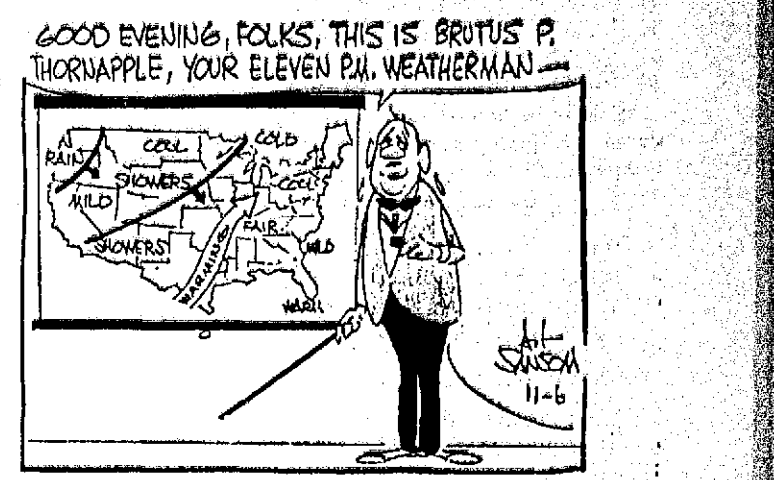

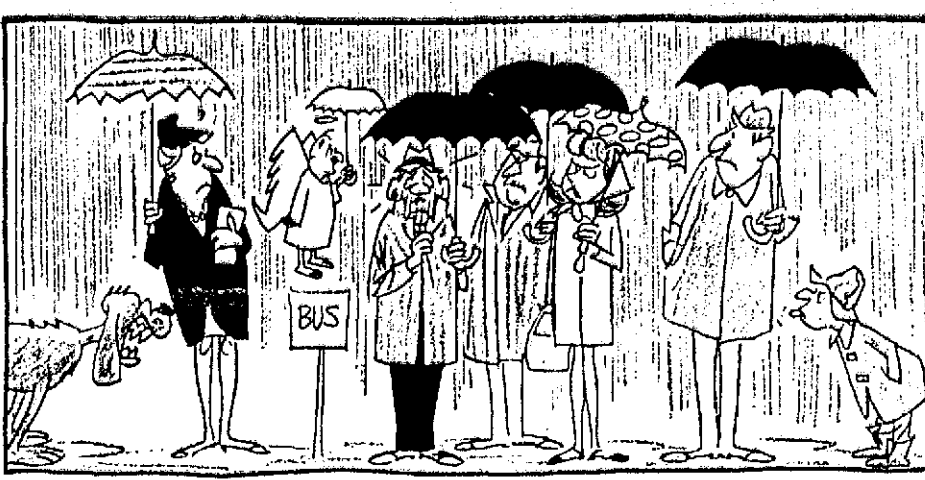

"No, that isn't the handsome, dashing, rich Wooster twin. It's the homely, tiresome one who lost all his money on Wall Street!"

"Why can't you be like other mothers and get too wrapped up in your social affairs to have time for me?"

Unofficial Ballot

This unofficial ballot is marked the way the Star suggests the public vote on Tuesday.

Special Election in the City of Hope, Arkansas held on the 7th day of November, 1967

The City of Hope proposes to construct street improvements throughout the City, which improvements shall consist of the purchase of rights-of-way for construction of public streets and for the construction of, widening, straightening, paving, and otherwise improving streets and boulevards within the corporate limits of the City. The City proposes to finance the construction of the said improvements through the issuance of general obligation bonds under the provisions of Amendment No. 13 to the Constitution of the State of Arkansas in the principal amount not to exceed $539,000.00, by bonds to be secured by a pledge of a motor vehicle (tax not to exceed $5.00 per year per vehicle under the provisions of Act 446 of the Acts of 1965, as amended, in the principal amount not to exceed $129,000.00, and by bonds to be secured by a pledge of parking meter revenues under the provisions of Act 269 of the Acts of 1951, as amended, in the principal amount not to exceed $97,000.00. The question of issuing each type of bonds is submitted to the electors for their approval. If bonds of more than one type are approved, the bonds may be issued separately or may be combined with bonds of any other type into one or more issues, but in no event will the aggregate principal amount of all bonds to be issued exceed $765,000.00.

In the event that the vote on the general obligation bonds is favorable, the said bonds will be secured by a levy of not to exceed five (5) mills on the dollar of taxable property within the City, and will be supported additionally by a pledge of surplus water and electric system revenues.

Vote on each measure by placing an "X" in the square opposite the measure, either for or against.

PROPOSAL NO. 1.

FOR an issue of bonds in an amount not to exceed $539,000.00 to be issued under the provisions of Amendment No. 13 to the Constitution of the State of Arkansas for the construction of, widening, and straightening of streets and boulevards within the municipal limits of the City, and to be supported additionally by a pledge of surplus water and electric system revenues. ☒

AGAINST an issue of bonds in an amount not to exceed $539,000.00 to be issued under the provisions of Amendment No. 13 to the Constitution of the State of Arkansas for the construction of, widening, and straightening of streets and boulevards within the municipal limits of the City, and to be supported additionally by a pledge of surplus water and electric system revenues. ☐

PROPOSAL NO. 2.

FOR an issue of bonds in an amount not to exceed $129,000.00 to be issued under the provisions of Act 446 of the Acts of 1965, as amended, to be secured by a tax not to exceed $5.00 per year per motor vehicle for the purpose of the construction and reconstruction of streets and other public ways in the City. ☒

Private Planes Collide

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Two private planes collided in flight Sunday and one of the pilots, his craft's tail section cleaved off, rode the crippled plane 800 feet to his death.

The second pilot said he was making a landing approach at a small private airport north of Tampa when the victim's plane flew into his path.

The victim was James Richard Shovan, 46, of Tampa.

Satellite Is Orbiting Successfully

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A multi-purpose "pintail" satellite soared around the globe today as a successful herald to one of America's busiest space weeks.

The new ATS 3, for applications technology satellite, rocketed into orbit from Cape Kennedy Sunday night to test systems that might eventually provide man with greater benefits from space.

Included are new experiments in communications, weather prediction and navigation.

ATS 3 is one of four U.S. space shots scheduled this week. Also on tap are:

— Surveyor 6, set to blast off from the Cape at 2:22 a.m. (EST) Tuesday on a planned 65-hour flight to the moon. The spacecraft is intended to land in a potential astronaut landing site near the center of the moon's surface to snap photographs and analyze the lunar soil.

— ESSA 6, another in a series of operational weather-study satellites, to be launched Wednesday from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif.

— A mammoth Saturn 5 rocket, like that which will one day propel astronauts to the moon, to undergo its first test launching Thursday from the Cape. The rocket, largest, most powerful ever built, is to boost an unmanned Apollo moonship 11,400 miles into space.

Sergeants Released, U.S. Reports

SAIGON (AP) — A U.S. spokesman said today that three American sergeants already may have been released by the Viet Cong which had announced earlier it would free them.

The spokesman said a Viet Cong broadcast early today indicated the three prisoners of war were released last Tuesday. But he said U.S. officials did not know where.

The Viet Cong's Liberation Radio, the spokesman said, made this comment: "Once again, the release of U.S. prisoners of war on Oct. 31 demonstrates the strength and just cause of the National Liberation Front (Viet Cong) and its profound humanity." Previous Communist broadcasts said only that the Viet Cong would turn loose the three American sergeants and U.S. authorities had called on the Communists to say when and where.

On the basis of the earlier broadcasts, U.S. authorities have identified the men as Lt. Sgt. Daniel L. Pitzer of Spring Lake, N.C., M. Sgt. Edward R. Johnson of Seaside, Calif. and S. Sgt. James E. Jackson of Tallott, W. Va.

The U.S. spokesman said today's broadcast contained this puzzling phrase: "The South Vietnamese people will not deliver these prisoners of war to the Johnson administration."

Earlier broadcasts had said the three men would be released to their families or "progressive American peoples organizations who come to receive them."

into an initial transfer orbit ranging from 155 to about 23,000 miles above the earth. About 10:45 a.m. today, a ground station planned to send a signal to fire a motor aboard the craft. The firing is to arrest the satellite in a stationary orbit 22,300 miles above Brazil.

Among equipment for the satellite's 18 experiments are three shiny, baseball-size steel balls which give it the "pintail" nickname.

Many Cities Go to Polls on Tuesday

By WILLIAM T. PEACOCK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) —

Scores of American cities will elect mayors Tuesday, with balloting in at least three of them closely tied to the race issue.

A federal court may decide today whether voters in Cary, Ind., even will go to the polls as scheduled. If the steel town does vote, state police and National Guardsmen are ready to move in because of apprehensions of racial disorder.

Richard G. Hatcher, Negro

HOPE (ARK) STAR, Printed by Offset

Democratic nominee, charged in a suit filed last Tuesday that 5,000 names of Negroes had been removed from the voting rolls and 4,000 phony names of whites inserted. He blamed the county Democratic organization whose candidate lost to him in the party primary.

Hatcher asked the U.S. District Court to correct this or halt the election. Since his suit was filed, the county elections board has restored thousands of names which had been erased from the rolls.

A three-judge panel was to convene at Hammond, Ind., today to consider Hatcher's complaints.

From Boston in the East to San Francisco in the West a host of cities and towns will be picking mayors. But there also are many cities, including New York and Chicago, where there are no mayoralty elections Tuesday. Cary is normally a Democratic stronghold, but the political contest there appears to have largely polarized into a Negro-white issue. The Republican candidate is Joseph B. Hatcher, a furniture store operator and city councilman. Hatcher is a lawyer.

Cary, population 178,000, is about 65 per cent Negro, but white registrants are believed to outnumber Negro voters.

These are the other mayoralty contests of top interest:

Cleveland—Carl B. Stokes, a Negro lawyer and state legislator, is the Democratic nominee and is opposed by Republican Seth Taft, a grandson of President William Howard Taft.

Since Democrats have won Cleveland elections for the last 25 years, Stokes is favored to win unless there is a substantial defection by white Democrats in reaction to riots and Negro militancy.

If elected, Stokes would be the first Negro chosen mayor of one of the large U.S. cities by popular vote.

Boston — The question is whether Mrs. Louise Day Hicks, a 47-year-old grandmother, can make it all the way to the top. She led a field of 10 in a preliminary election, getting strong support in working and middle-class areas where there was applause for her stand as a school committee member against busing Negro children to white schools outside their home neighborhoods.

Her opponent is Kevin H. White, 38, now secretary of state. The election is nonpartisan. Both candidates are Democrats.

Philadelphia — District Attorney Arlen Specter, a onetime Democrat who switched parties, is the Republican nominee against Mayor James H. Tate, leader of one faction of a split Democratic party. Victory for Specter would be a major Republican coup in the year before the presidential election.

In addition to the mayoralty contests, there are elections for governor in Kentucky and Mississippi.

Republicans think they have a good chance in usually Democratic Kentucky, and the campaign has grown heated as the election approached.

GOP nominee Louie B. Nunn has contended that Democratic nominee Henry Ward didn't do a good job as state highway commissioner and that road costs were higher than in some other states. Disputing this, Ward blasted Nunn for campaigning with "false charges."

On his part, Ward has implied Ku Klux Klan links to Nunn, a conservative lawyer from South Kentucky. He said he had seen a Klan motorcade with cars with signs supporting Nunn.

Nunn seeks to turn unhappiness over the Vietnam war to his advantage. A campaign slogan asks, "Tired of the war? Vote Nunn."

Bond Issues Needed Because Local Street Tax Virtually Zero

This is a postscript to last week's series of editorials on Hope's street bonds election for which you will go to the polls Tuesday.

Our final reminder is that the people who get helped usually are the ones who make an effort to help themselves - and the issue tomorrow is just that: You are going to get out of the street-improvement program only what you put into it... no more... no less.

Big talkers are always popping off with the question "What does the City do with all its street money?", when, as a matter of fact, the City has virtually no local tax support at all for streets. Here are the facts:

The City of Hope gets $85,000 a year in gasoline tax "turnback funds" from the state. The sole local tax earmarked for streets is revenue collected from the parking meters, a net of $15,000 - $21,000 gross less $6,000 collection cost. Total money available for Hope's streets, therefore, is $100,000 a year - and the municipal Water & Light Plant has to add $50,000 a year to give us such streets as we have.

It has been my observation - and I served four years on the municipal Board of Public Affairs - that Hope's bad streets came in when the city auto license tax went out. Automobile owners quit helping, so the streets went to pot.

It figures - but naturally, it's your privilege to object, of course, but I know of no more idle conversation than arguing with an adding machine.

We had fair city streets when the city auto license tax was in effect - and tomorrow you have a chance to help yourself and your streets by voting the city auto license back into law.

The city auto license tax represents one of three bond issues on which Hope votes tomorrow. It's a package deal and if you really want improved streets you will vote for all three measures in the package.

That is, unless you're a hickory-nut citizen. He's the guy who says YES for a public improvement but votes NO for the tax necessary to carry it out.

This is an appeal to automobile owners to vote FOR the city auto license tax tomorrow. The $5-a-year charge isn't an expense - it's an investment, as anyone knows who has paid for a wheel-alignment job. Bad paving makes for wheel-alignment trouble. Good paving reduces car wear and expense.

Vote YES for all three bond issues tomorrow - and put Hope on the good road that leads to Tomorrow.

Four Places to Vote on Tuesday

Voters of Hope will go to the polls Tuesday to decide on a five mill tax and a $5 city auto tag tax to finance a proposed $765,000 street improvement program.

Three issues will be on the ballot - the five mill tax, the auto tag tax, and the issuance of $97,000 in bonds to be paid off from parking meter funds.

There will be only four voting places. Residents of Hope Ward 1 will vote at the Fire Station, Ward 2 votes at the Court House, Ward 3 at the WOW Hall across from City Hall and Ward 4 residents will vote at City Hall.

Election officials: Ward 1 - Hope City Fire Station. Judges: Mrs. Bill Wray, Mr. Cecil Weaver, Mrs. Cecil Weaver, Clerks: Mrs. George Frazier, Mrs. Jim James, Guard: Mr. Horace Fuller.

Ward 2 - Little Court Room in County Courthouse. Judges: Mrs. Paul Rawson, Mr. J. A. Davis, Mr. E. F. Formby. Clerks: Mrs. Horace Anthony, Mrs. E. F. Formby, Guard: Mr. Paul Rawson.

Ward 3 - W.O.W. Hall. Judges: Mrs. Paul Klipsch, Mrs. Mary Virginia Horton, Mrs. Edwin Ward. Clerks: Mrs. Comer Boyette, Mrs. Chloe Pierce, Guard: Mr. M. C. Parsons.

Ward 4 - City Courtroom (City Hall). Judges: Mrs. Dora King, Reverend B. J. Wilhite, Mr. N. U. Cassidy. Clerks: Mrs. Homer Stone, Mrs. Garrett Willis, Guard: Mr. J. J. Shope.

Absentee Box - County Clerk's Office. Judges: Mr. Cecil O'Steen, Mr. Leonard Ellis, Mrs. Louis Crain. Clerks: Mrs. June Reynolds, Mrs. Lois O'Neal.

OSCEOLA, Ark. (AP) - The Little River Water Association announced Saturday that it had been granted a $350,000 federal loan for construction of some 40 miles of water lines that will serve about 400 families in the Little River, Etowah, Athelstan and Bondsville communities in Mississippi County.

Cites Need to Improve City Streets

Mayor John B. Gardner received the following letter from the Director of Arkansas Highways which is of interest to all local residents:

Dear Mayor Gardner: This is to confirm the information presented to you when your delegation appeared before the Highway Commission on October 25, 1967 regarding a Comprehensive Highway Transportation Planning Study for your City.

You and the people of Hope and Hempstead County will recall that an origin destination traffic survey was conducted on all the major highways in the Hope area a few months ago. Due to our workload, we have not been in a position to analyze the information derived from the study; however, as a result of your interest and willingness to cooperate our Planning and Research Division was requested to undertake this Comprehensive Study and complete it as early as possible. As I explained to you at the Highway Commission meeting, the study is already underway and you may be assured that our engineers will work with City officials and any planning consultants that you may employ to insure close coordination of the planning project. The study will include the need and feasibility of a railroad overpass for Highway 29 and other present and planned highways.

State Highways within Hope carry only a portion of the traffic load generated in the urban area. I am sure that you and the people of Hope are well aware of the traffic problems on the State Highway System and the City Street System and that improvements must be made on both City Streets and State Highways in order to safely and efficiently serve local and through traffic.

When the Interstate System is complete, traffic patterns will change and the problem will then involve the Street System's ability to collect and disburse traffic to and from the main connectors to the Interstate System. Therefore, it is considered pertinent to point out that improvements will be needed on the various streets in order to supplement the State Highway System and to serve both present and future local traffic needs. I was especially pleased when you reported at the meeting that plans were underway to meet the needs of local street improvements. It is hoped that your plans will materialize.

You and the people of Hope might be interested in knowing that I-30 is anticipated to be opened to traffic from Highway 4 south early in 1969 depending upon availability of funds and working conditions.

Again, I want to thank you for your interest in safe and efficient highway transportation and for your willingness to cooperate. You and the people of Hope are to be congratulated on your local planning endeavors and if I can provide further assistance, I will be happy to comply. Yours truly, Ward Goodinay, Director of Highways

One Killed on Highways

Only one person was killed in traffic accidents on Arkansas highways during the weekend period which began Friday at 6 p.m.

State Police said Annie Mae Moore, 66, of Camden, was killed Friday night when another car crashed head-on into a parked car in which she was sitting.

State Trooper Scotty Battershell said George McGowan, 73, of Camden, apparently lost control of his vehicle about 6 miles east of Camden on Arkansas 4.

Antipoverty Program Extension Debate Starts in the House

Negro Man Perishes in House Fire

Fire destroyed a house at noon Saturday at N. Hazel and Old Highway 67 and a 75-year-old Negro occupant listed as Will Tyree perished in the blaze. He lived alone.

Fire Chief James Cobb said the house was completely engulfed by the time firemen arrived. An investigation continues.

Also Saturday at 3 p.m. firemen were called to the Ed T. Rogers place north on Highway 29 to put out a grass fire. There was very little damage.

At 4:25 p.m. Saturday a house on North Allen Street occupied by a Negro family named Scoggins was completely destroyed by fire. The blaze started from a wood stove, Fire Chief Cobb said.

At 9:20 p.m. Saturday an unoccupied house at 211 East 8th Street was destroyed by fire. Cause of the fire was not determined.

Court Refuses Insurance Firm Hearing

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - The Arkansas Supreme Court refused a rehearing today of its ruling that prohibited the American Foundation Life Co. from blocking minority stockholders wanting to merge with the National Old Line Insurance Co.

The court had held last May that it is not legal in Arkansas for a domestic insurance company to create a voting trust. The ruling had upheld a decision by Circuit Court in Pulaski County and former Securities Commissioner Clint Jones.

Maryland's Loyalty Oath Struck Down

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Supreme Court today declared Maryland's loyalty oath for public employees unconstitutional because it was vague.

The 6-3 decision was given by Justice William O. Douglas. It stressed a provision in the oath requiring state employees to swear that they are not engaged "in one way or another" in an attempt to forcibly overthrow the Maryland or federal governments.

Douglas questioned if someone could be considered involved in an attempt to overthrow the government if he belonged to a subversive organization but was unaware of its objectives.

"We do not know," Douglas said, "nor could a prospective employee know save as he risked a prosecution for perjury."

The three dissenters, speaking through Justice John M. Harlan, said: "The only thing that does shine through the opinion of the majority is that its members do not like loyalty oaths."

Ford Gets Back in Production

DETROIT (AP) - Cars rolled off Ford Motor Co. assembly lines today for the first time since Sept. 6, when the United Auto Workers struck the auto's no. 2 automaker and won record gains for 160,000 UAW members at Ford.

At Chrysler, the union's no. 2 target, bargainners worked against a Wednesday midnight deadline to come up with a contract covering the firm's 95,000 production workers and 8,000 salaried workers represented by the union.

Ford assembly lines were closed for 60 days.

Group Wants Big Cut in Foreign Aid

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) - A record 31 per cent cut in new funds for the foreign aid program was recommended today by the House Appropriations Committee.

Instead of the $3.23 billion requested by President Johnson, the committee sent to the House floor for debate next week a bill appropriating $2.20 billion. Committee aides said the $1.03 billion cut was the deepest since the aid program was started.

The committee tied to the bill a controversial provision designed to restrict the purchases of modern weapons by underdeveloped nations receiving aid money.

In an apparent move to head off further cuts when the bill is considered by the House, the committee said it recognized the importance of the aid program and considered the new funds recommended to be the minimum necessary to finance the program during the current fiscal year.

Further reductions, it said, might seriously hamper efforts to help America's friends throughout the world in their own development efforts.

The bill's total included $1.831 billion of the $2.630 bill on requested for economic aid and $365 million of the $596 million requested for direct military assistance. The total was $740 million less than appropriated last year.

During the year ending next June 30, the committee said, it is expected that 100 countries and 5 territories will receive some form of U.S. assistance.

Smith of Hope Rt. 3 was one of 16 physical education majors from Southern State College attending sessions of the Arkansas Association for Physical Education, Health & Recreation convention at Central High School in Little Rock, November 2, according to Dr. Kathryn Brown, professor of physical education who accompanied the students... Smith is a graduate of Blevins High School and attended Centenary College before transferring to Southern State where he is a senior physical education major.

Just a reminder as a citizen of the City of Hope it is your duty to go to the polls and vote Tuesday.

New Target Hit by U.S. Bombers

SAIGON (AP) - A U.S. Air Force jet knocked down two MIGs today in an aerial clash over North Vietnam, U.S. headquarters reported.

SAIGON (AP) - Another target in North Vietnam came off the Pentagon's out-of-bounds list today as U.S. Air Force fighter-bombers attacked a sprawling military storage area on the outskirts of Hanoi for the first time.

American planes hit the Gia Thuong storage area less than a mile north of the Gia Lam air base, which is across the Red River from the heart of Hanoi and is North Vietnam's main civilian air field.

Gia Lam is also the only MIG airfield U.S. warplanes have not yet attacked and one of about five major targets still on the Pentagon's restricted list. Among the others are the Hai-phong docks and railroad terminal and the power plant in Lao Cai, on the border of Communist China.

The Gia Thuong storage area is on the main northeast railroad and highway from Communist China to Hanoi over which military supplies come to North Vietnamese troops fighting in South Vietnam. The area is between two key bridges, the Canal des Rapides and Doumer, both of which have been repeatedly attacked by American bombers.

The American F105 Thunderchief pilots reported MIG 17 and MIG21 interceptors in the area, and one F105 had a brief clash with one of the Red jets, but the U.S. Command said neither plane was hit.

A U.S. spokesman said Gia Thuong is considered one of the largest military storage areas in North Vietnam, with 72 storage buildings, 11 support buildings and eight administration buildings in the compound. He said the American bombs impacted on the buildings and on aircraft sites protecting the area.

The spokesman said both the Canal des Rapides and Doumer bridges had been knocked out in previous raids and there apparently was a backlog of military supplies in Gia Thuong, making it "a lucrative target."

In another major strike Sunday, Air Force Thunderchiefs again raided the Phuc Yen MIG base northwest of Hanoi and reported damaging at least two MIG17 interceptors on the ground. In South Vietnam, meanwhile, South Vietnamese infantrymen battled Viet Cong troops near Loc Ninh.

One American F105 was shot down during the Phuc Yen raid, but two propeller-driven A1 Skyraiders drove off two MIG17s while a "jolly green giant" helicopter.

"It was one of the deepest rescue penetrations made in the war in North Vietnam," a U.S. spokesman said.

The F105 was the 726th U.S. combat plane announced lost over the north.

Snow Hits in Some Sections

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Heavy snow squalls dumped up to 2 feet of snow Sunday night and early today along the southern and eastern shores of the Great Lakes.

The season's first major snowstorm sent temperatures plunging and brought traffic to a crawl.

The area hardest hit was the eastern shore of Lake Erie in northwest Ohio and Pennsylvania and extreme western New York. The storm dumped 23 inches of snow at Conneaut, Ohio, and 21 inches at Mayville, N.Y.

Two feet of snow was reported on the ground at Hurley in northern Wisconsin and at Ironwood, Michigan.

Snowfalls elsewhere were lighter. Snow depths along the eastern shore of Lake Michigan ranged from 1 to 5 inches.

Temperatures dipped into the teens and mid 20s along the snow belt.

Elsewhere, unseasonably cold weather and clear skies covered most of the nation east of the Rockies.

Didn't Ask for Mediation

JAKARTA (AP) - Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey discussed the Vietnam war with Indonesia's acting President Suharto but did not ask him to mediate, sources in Humphrey's party said today.

The sources said Suharto indicated he could help the United States because he has diplomatic relations with Hanoi. They said Humphrey thanked him for the offer but never specifically requested any assistance.

A spokesman for Suharto had said Sunday that Humphrey asked the Indonesian government to mediate. The sources in Humphrey's party said this was incorrect.

Hearing Denied 3 Refusing to Go to War

WASHINGTON (AP) - Three Army privates who were court-martialed after they refused to be shipped to Vietnam were denied a hearing today by the Supreme Court. However, two of the justices suggested that the case presents "questions of great magnitude."

Justices Potter Stewart and William O. Douglas said that among the questions which the case presented - and which they said the court should have heard - are whether present United States military activity is in fact a war within the meaning of the Constitution and, if so, whether the President may constitutionally order the three "to participate in that military activity when no war has been declared by the Congress."

The court voted 6-2 not to hear the case, with Justice Thurgood Marshall taking no part. The three privates claimed that had they obeyed orders sending them to Vietnam they would have been guilty of war crimes. Thus, they contended, the orders were illegal.

The three are Dennis Mora, 26, of New York City; David A. Samas, 21, of Modesto, Calif.,

Boyle Feels His 30 Years With His Wife Has Become a Habit

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) - Thirty years ago today I married my first wife.

We are still together, my last duchess and me, no more strangers now than we were when we set out to find each other so brief a long time ago. "This looks like steady work," I muttered to myself as I carried my bride, Frances, across the threshold of our $35-a-month climb-the-stairs apartment in Greenwich Village in 1937.

And so far it has been. As weddings go, it didn't make much of a splash. It happened at one of those churches so busy you simply had to be there on time. If you showed up 15 minutes early, you might be baptized instead of married, and if you showed up 15 minutes late you might be buried.

I saved $5 by not having all the candles lit, and $10 by providing the music from the soul rather than paying for a hired hand to key the sounds.

After all, when a fellow is embarking to a brave new world of two on $47.50 a week, he has to begin by pinching his pennies a bit. But, if I do say so myself, it was a memorable wedding banquet. It was held in an Italian basement restaurant, and the steaming spaghetti and meatballs seemed to come on forever, and the cheap red wine flowed like crimson champagne.

Since then that wedding has endured cockroaches and higher rents, movings on to new adventures, arguments and agreements, the sharings of happiness and misadventures, and the wistful attempt to raise a child to the point where she has the ability to pay for her own telephone.

Looking back across that small eternity of union, I have concluded that it is only wonder that has kept it going.

For my part, I have often wondered why Frances has put up with me.

For my wife's part, she has often wondered where I was, but when the phone has rung and someone has asked her where her husband was, she has usually loyally replied:

"Well, if there is a war going on somewhere, then Rover may be over there; and if there isn't a war on, then Rover positively should be home shortly, sooner or later."

Over the years many benedicts have asked me if I have any suggestions that might help make a marriage endure. I can think of only two.

First, both partners shouldn't always worry about what to do with the money that is available. This problem should be given to the mind of whichever partner is best able to deal with it.

In my own case, I tried to handle the money for the first month, and found myself unequal to the struggle. So for the next 29 years and 11 months I have brought my paycheck home in my mouth to my wife, and tried to get as much as possible back later. We still aren't much ahead, but we've never been in a bankruptcy court.

The second suggestion I would make for a lasting marriage is that the wife get up and cook her husband a good breakfast every day.

Frances got this idea in her childhood from a wise old-fashioned aunt she revered, and who once told her:

"When your times comes, dear, never forget to feed your husband well in the morning, and let him see the face he'll work for all day long to come back home to."

Well, Frances followed this advice sedulously. When I was single, I breakfasted on a sack of salted peanuts and a bottle of cola. But since she took over the breakfast doing, I start the day with orange juice, freshly squeezed, toast, a scrambled egg and two cups of tea. It does make a fellow feel different.

Once I was so grateful for the
